

Sue Liburd Biography

- IHD Accredited Master Trainer
- IHD Accredited Coach (Distinction)

Sue's main activities:

- Design and facilitation of Leadership Development Programmes
- Design and facilitation of High Performance Coaching Programmes
- Executive Coaching

Sue Liburd is a focused and dynamic business, management and people development professional, workshop facilitator, creative management consultant and high performance coach. Her purpose is to transform businesses and organisations through the development of senior managers and directors.

Sue is visionary, highly motivated, dynamic, effervescent and highly individual. This former Nurse, Midwife, Army officer, HRD professional who went on to gain extensive experience in a number of high-profile directorships has a proven track record of success.

Sue has operated internationally for companies and organisations of all sizes across a diverse range of industry sectors; including complex, multi-sited corporations, local authorities, not for profit and social housing organisations. This experience combined with a track record of establishing, leading and managing high performing teams, informs Sue's special interest in the development of the leadership legacy.

Beneath her vibrant personality lays curiosity, intellect, creativity, compassion and humanity. Possessed with a quiet determination, confidence and self-belief in her ability to contribute to the world, she acts as a catalyst for change.

Email sue.liburd@ihd.co.uk